Mr. LAKE's name will not be on any of the committees for the temperance camp-meeting.

The Globe-Democrat, Chicago News and Inter-Ocean are now cultivating an appetite for crow.

It is said of Judas that after he took the thirty pieces of silver he went out and hanged himself and his bowels became ashamed of the carcass and dropped out.

Brown's pure coal respects at the Blaine-Logan ticket. He must be hard to please considering the treasure of gratitude he took to the Dorsey banquet in 1880, and his hearty endorsement of that gentleman.

The State Register says The republican papers lay great stress upon what they term Mr. Tilden's paralysis. Mr. Tilden may have a little nervous disorder, but it is nothing to the complete paralysis Mr. Blaine and the republican party will experience when the returns from the November election come in.

The Republican should not forget its argument made last spring a year ago, for a straight party ticket in municipal affairs in order to be able to place the responsibility. The responsibility is a heavy one, and Mr. Lake was a regular nominee of the republican party. But he has only been redeeming party promises.

Rogers, Crocker and Foster, republican members of the present General Assembly from this district had positive instructions upon the question of voting for a prohibition amendment. The records fail to show that they did any thing in that direction, and yet they have never been asked to resign. The cyclone of outraged sentiment appears to have passed them by and struck the Lake.

On the 23d ult., the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, the leading republican paper of the southwest, paid its respects to the republican nominee for president to the following forcible and possibly truthful sentence: "Blaine cannot carry the full strength of the republican party, to begin with, and his repulsive, rotten record will repel the independent and detached voters. He is an unclean man, and the people will not have him. To nominate him would be to court defeat. He stands self-convicted of prostituting the high offices he has held to build up a private fortune—of cohabiting with corruption for dishonest money. Oh, no, his record would down him!"

The republicans of the state capital essayed to have a ratification meeting on Saturday evening, but like that in our own city, it turned out to be a very tame affair. Among the orators at Springfield was Mr.
Bluford Wilson. In his effort to appear eloquent over the nomination of Blaine and Logan he permitted his enthusiasm to get the better of his discretion, and gloried in the nomination of two such men, because they believed in and insisted upon "America for Americans." In doing Mr.
Wilson's blunder or indiscretion, in thus reviving the doctrine of the old "know-nothing" party, the State Register calmly inquires "what the republican party, under the leadership of Blaine and Logan, propose to do with our German and Irish fellow-citizens if the doctrine of America for Americans only prevails?" But the republican party will have a muzzle on Mr. Wilson before the next party pow-wow, and he will be singing a quite diff'rent song.

The Republican has an opinion at last. On Saturday it should have said its say on the peculiar action of Alderman Lake, but not a word! The REVIEW was outspoken, and its position was endorsed by nine nineteenths of the people of this city and county. The Republican was the run of the current, yesterday criticises Mr. Lake's course, and concludes by intimating that it ought put his party associates in a nice position, and that if he does not justly get off the ticket as a candidate for member of the board of equalization, that it might be necessary for action to be taken in that direction. The situation is peculiarly distressing! Mr. Lake was for years the head of "the grand old party" in Union county, and to have it—or at least mildly suggest that he is a proper person to remain on the ticket, is indeed painful. But what Mr. Lake's action in betraying his party is damning, he is burrowing on the premises of the party manege. In October 1882, when he repudiated the ticket in Macon county, he was in danger because of a marked defection of the Germans who were candidates for the ticket, and now every one who lives in the system of the party.

Mr. O. A. PARSONS, writing from 16 Elm St., Charlton, Mass., April 14, 1882, says:
"Two years ago about two-thirds of my hair had fallen out, and I was fast growing bald. I spoke of it from my own experience. It was promoted the growth of new hair, and now it is glossy and soft. This vigor is also a sure sign of health. Now, with my knowledge has the preparation ever failed to give entire satisfaction."

Mr. AUGUST FAIRBAKES, leader of the celebrated "Fairbares Family" of Scottish origin, writes from Boston, Mass., April 14, 1882:
"Ever since my hair began to grow again, I have used ATYER'S HAIR VIGOR, which has given me a new appearance of youthfulness—a matter of considerable consequence to ministers, orators, actors, and others, and every one who lives in the system of the party."

We have hundreds of similar testimonies to the efficacy of ATYER'S HAIR VIGOR. It needs but a trial to convince the most skeptical of its value.

men were threatened if they helped defeat the ticket, that the party would unite with the prohibitionists next spring, and there should not be any license. On the other hand the pledge was made, "help us, and we will take care of you!" It took several days to consummate the bargain. For two days D. W. Brennan and others were labored with by leading men of the party. For two days, apparently by a concerted plan, the shining lights of the party, in succession, presented the danger to the liquor interest, of its giving any support to the democratic ticket.
The bargain was made! Election day came, and "it was a glorious victory,"—a victory bought by the prostitution of the power to crush the saloon men, by the open purchase of voters, and even by the promise of freedom from prison walls and prison stripes. The grand old party was a pure soul resort at the
sure of gratitude he took to the Dor-
endorsement of that gentleman.

This very result has been predicted by the REVIEW. It has been discussed in many quiet caucuses. When the prohibitionists, in order to further their party interests, will permit their candidates to make such an alliance with the grand old party, to begin with,

Again we say that the REVIEW be-system is the proper way to regulate and control the liquor traffic, but as heartily say the will of the people should be respected.

The Public Library has reopened and its patrons may once more secure books.

It is probable that the Haymakers will be produced at Thyrlerville one evening this week.

The board of supervisors will meet today. Chairman Hill will appoint his standing committee.

James McLaughlin was fined three dollars and costs yesterday, for drunkenness, by Squire McGorray.

Spring shoes, best quality, and lowest prices in the city, at the large popular store of L. L. Ferriss & Co., ap5t.

The Dime Museum, at the Opera house, draws like a team of elephants. It is a big show for a little admission fee, and everybody goes to see it.

W. H. Hays and Thomas Sheehan were before Squire Curtis yesterday on charge of larceny, but both were acquitted. The complainant was G. D. COMMITTEE.

Constable Sprague of Argenta, arrested Edward Bredo, yesterday, who was indicted for larceny by the last grand jury. He was brought to this city and placed in jail.

Go to Wingate's lamp store and buy one of those steam washing machines, if you want to see the dirt roll out of your clothes without a particle of rubbing. ap5t.

The baggage of the "Tactics" company was left on the depot platform Saturday night and got soaking wet, and some of the members of the troupe were very mad about it.

The W. C. T. U. excursion to Springfield was a very successful affair, there being five coach loads of people out of this city. The excursionists returned home about 8 o'clock in the evening.

For ornamenting glass for doors and transoms, W. A. Bridges leads the van with his perfect sand blast. He shows excellent specimens of work in that line, and his rates are surprisingly low. j10w Judge Smith adjourned court last evening until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. He was about ready to commence work on the criminal cases but State Attorney John is absent from the city, he being in Philadelphia, where his wife is quite ill.

James Veala, the "French Center from Cork," has just received fine stock of pantaloons good in all the latest styles, which he will make up in the most artistic and workman-like manner, guaranteeing satisfaction in every instance. National Bank block, j10m.

Some say "consumption can't be cured." Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, as proved by forty years' experience, will cure this disease when not already advanced beyond the reach of medical aid. Even then its use affords very great relief, and insures refreshing sleep. jw

Last evening Captain Hewes arrested two coal miners named Wm. Moran and John Gilmore. It seems that they had some difficulty and determined to settle in prize-fighter style. They went to a secluded spot and after stripping to the waist, went for each other vigorously. The master will be given an airing in the police court to day.

We invite attention to the advertisement of James Dougherty, the Fifth Ward Grocer, in another column. Mr. D. has a large and carefully selected stock of groceries and provisions, embracing also glass ware, queen's wear, etc. Orders for coal and wood will also receive prompt attention, and be filled in good weights and measures at lowest market prices. James is honest, energetic, persevering, industrious, and accommodating, and deserves a liberal patronage.

No sufferer from any scrofulous disease, who will fairly try Ayer's Saraparilla, need despair of a cure. It will purge the blood of all impurities, thereby destroying the germs from which scrofula is developed, and will infuse new life and vigor throughout the whole physical organization. jw

Come in and we will quote prices to you and let you have a look at the goods. We have the goods in stock, and never advertise what we are just out of" when you come to buy.

Man for Temperance Camp Meeting

It is the intention of the committee to do everything in their power to have fine music, as well as fine orators, for the camp-meeting. They have instructed Prof. Lutz to select the best music suitable for the occasion that could be found, which he has done. The books will be on sale at Lutz & Wise's music store about June 7th. Words and music 35 cents per copy, or $3.60 per dozen. Words only, 15¢ per copy or $1.00 per dozen. This book will meet a want long felt by temperance workers everywhere. It is not only designed for temperance meetings, but it is a desirable work for the home circle. As it is the intention to have one special day for all Sunday schools in Macon and adjacent counties, to unite, it will be necessary that each school secure the books as early as possible. Prof. Lutz will direct choristers and organists every Saturday afternoon at the tabernacle, from June 7th until the camp-meeting, to render any assistance they may desire. He will also, at the same place, train a chorus of two thousand children for the occasion, dead wif.

MRS. MOONEY'S COW.

UNITED AGAINST A COMMON ENEMY.

A Breach of Laniganville Etiquette Leads to a Howling Shallow—Dissatisfied Avareice and Base Ingratitude.

(Philadelphia Times) For the first time in the memory of the police the septs of Laniganville are united against a common enemy, and so strong is the bond of union that the issuing on Thursday of nine warrants for the arrest of as many inhabitants of the warlike district has not weakened the confederacy in the slightest degree. The common enemy of the Brophy and Maguire and Mooneys and their relatives and friends is a Hebrew gentleman named Isaac Hindlebaum, who charges that at a raffle for a cow held in the house of Mrs. Mooney on Wednesday night he was attacked by the Milesian cohorts and beaten in a shocking manner.

In support of the story of his ill-treatment Mr. Hindlebaum, in addition to numerous Whistler-like descriptions of various parts of his body, exhibits a closed eye, a swollen nose, a cut lip and a furrow in which, before the "shinoo," set three teeth. He now carries the uprooted molars in a vest pocket and considers them undeniable evidence of the outrages way he was treated. Mr. Hindlebaum swore out the warrants before Magistrate Lennon. Two of the warrants were served on Thursday night and on Friday evening another of Mr. Hindlebaum's wicked assailants was captured. The six others are at liberty and it is doubtful whether the officers will be able to arrest them.

From the testimony it appears that the trouble grew out of a raffle for a cow owned by the widow Mooney. The cow has for two years been a terror to people living within a radius of a mile of the outskirts of the neighborhood in which her owner lives, and Mrs. Mooney has been called upon time and again to pay for damages done by her milkmen. This predatory bovine galloped over fences like a steppel-chaser, and grew fat and turned out gallons of milk on a diet that would have given a goat dyspepsia. She striped clothes-lines, devoured awnings, raided fruit stalls and attacked the vegetable displays in front of family grocery shops.

A week or two ago Mrs. Mooney resolved to get rid of the troublesome beast, as she said, and as no one of the knew the piratical characteristics of the brute would buy her, the widow, following the advice of her friends, resolved to raffle the cow. One hundred tickets were printed and sold for fifty cents each.

The bits of cardboard were distributed all over Laniganville and the adjoining districts, and the mass of them were taken by obliging political aspirants, anxious to propitiate the Mooney, the Maguire and other families that contained active and energetic voters.

Mr. Hindlebaum has for several years made weekly visits to Laniganville and supplied the people thereof with fancy goods, taking in exchange rags and old meat.

Eight or ten days ago he is an unemployed hour sold several small articles to Mrs. Mooney and took in barter a bag of rice, a copper kettle and a ticket to the raffle for the cow. At the hearing yesterday Mrs. Mooney and half a dozen friends stoutly averred that the kettle above was worth more than the goods she received from Mr. Hindlebaum's pack. Mr. Hindlebaum got the raffle-ticket, however, and on Wednesday night the two were to be thrown for the cow. He was among the first to reach Mrs. Mooney's house. Thirty or forty people were present when the throwing began.

Seventy-four chances were thrown off and 42 was the highest when Mr. Hindlebaum grasped the box. To show the good feeling that prevailed when Mr. Hindlebaum began throwing, the witnesses the other day declared that he was greeted with such encouraging cries as: "Let ye moid the poddler," "Ah, tiz Hindlebaum that'll thrum them," and "Go it, me by."

Mr. Hindlebaum threw it at the first attempt, 10 at the second and ended with 12, making a total of 46. The remaining ticket-holders tried their luck, but none could equal Mr. Hindlebaum, who was, with apparent good feeling, declared the winner, in honor of his good fortune Mr. Hindlebaum ordered a keg of beer, two gallons of whisky and a box of cigars. The neighbors poured in and the merrymaking began.

Mr. Hindlebaum was the lion of the hour, and as the crowd was large and chafers were few he was allowed the honor of sitting upon Mrs. Mooney's bed. Just before midnight, Mr. Hindlebaum, saturated with beer and whisky of compliments and congratulations, put on his overcoat and hat and turning to Mrs. Mooney said that he would send for the cow on the following morning.

When Mr. Hindlebaum spoke of taking Mrs. Mooney's notorious bovine away his hearers stood as if petrified, and when Mr. Daly found breath to gasp: "What would you do with the cow?"

"I shall not let her if I had my money paid for dholes!" answered Mr. Hindlebaum, nervously.

Without further argument fiery Mr. Daly laid a frown on Mr. Hindlebaum's nose. Mr. Mooney struck him in the eye, and Mr. Dugay sent the unfortunate peddler to the door with a blow on the jaw. While they romped over Mr. Hindlebaum with their feet half a dozen other gentlemen fought for room enough to get a kick at the impudent prize-winner, whom the women at last saved from pulverization. Torn, bruised and bleeding, he was huddled out of a back door and left to find his way home.

This was the story Mr. Hindlebaum told with great relish to the Magistrate, and in the main it was supported by the witness.

When the guilty men and their friends went away from the office yesterday they left Mr. Hindlebaum and a knot of acquaintances behind. The complainant was perfectly satisfied with Magistrate Severson's ruling during the hearing, but he wanted to ask this important question:

"What can I do?"

The conundrum remained unanswered.

GOOD MEN'S BAGGAGE.

An Old Porter's Recollections of the Grip-Socks Carried by Distinguished Statesmen—The Women Had Trunks (N. Y. Sun.)

CHEAP HOMES!

Along the line of the St. Louis, from Mountain & Southern Railway, Texas Pacific Railway and International & Great Northern Railroad, are thousands of acres of the choicest farming, and grazing lands in the world, ranging in price from $2.00 to $3.00 and $4.00 per acre, in a healthy country, with climate unsurpassed for salubrity and comfort. Send your address to the undersigned for a copy of statistics of crops raised in Arkansas and Texas, in 1882, and make up your mind to go and see for yourself when you learn that the crop for 1883, is 50 per cent, larger than that of 1882. To those purchasing land owned by the company, and paying one-fourth, one-half, or all cash, a proportionate rebate is allowed for money paid for tickets or freight over the company's lines.

Going Away.

W. R. White, the gate man, will leave this city next Monday, to make a canvass of Ohio, or Iowa in the interest of his celebrated gate. During his sojourn in our city he has disposed of a large amount of Territory, and a still more astonishing number of farm rights. In all his business transactions he has proven himself a straightforward, upright, honorable man, while socially he has won the confidence, friendship and esteem of all who have the pleasure of his acquaintance, and the best wishes of hundreds of our citizens will follow him wherever he may go.

His gate is admitted to be the best of its kind ever patented, and of the scores and hundreds who have purchased and used it, not a single case of dissatisfaction has been reported so far as we have been able to learn.

Mr. White is a worthy man, and his gate is ne plus ultra.
